PHOTOGRAPHY WORKSHOP

with Christa Neu

Inspired by the photographs featured in the exhibition Taking it to the Streets: Street Photography from the LUAG Collection learn how to capture the world and community around you with prompts designed to hone your observational skills.

View the exhibition and workshop recording on our website at www.luag.org

Images (Left to right): ERIKA STONE, Mother and Child, Mexico, 1970; GARRY WINOGRAD, Beverly Hills, California 1978 - "Women Art Better Than Men. Not Only Have They Survived, They Prevail", 1978; MARK CITRET, Sts. Peter & Paul Church, North Beach, 2001
What you will need*:
- SmartPhone or Tablet
- 5-6 small toys
- Piece of cardboard or thick paper
- Photo props to hold up paper (ie/ book, napkin holder)
- Flashlight
- Piece of foil
- notebook or small cutting board

*You can substitute any of these supplies with whatever you have at home!

Capture your own photographs:

1. View the images from the exhibition and workshop recording on our website at www.luag.org/videos
2. Take a detailed shot of your world.
   a. What does your world look like?
   b. How do you spend the hours in the day?
3. Photograph your family.
4. Use the self-timer and prop your phone to snap a selfie.
5. Start small - Practice composition and light with your toys or things in your home that hold meaning for you.
6. Photograph your room - set a timer for 3 minutes and gather 5 things that are the same color.
7. Photograph your neighborhood - Consider point of view, lighting, composition.

Share your art with us!
Tag @LUArtGalleries online or upload your images to the Google Drive https://bit.ly/35Qt0nA for a chance to win a free framed print and LUAG Swag!

Visit us at www.luag.org for more information about exhibitions, activities, and upcoming programs.